SAFEGUARDS AGAINST FIRE

A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans and Petersburg Grays Will Worship Together.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., Jan. 8.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Petersburg Rim and Veneer Company just held, it was decided to immediately rebuild the manufacturing establishment on the same site occupied by the buildings recently destroyed by fire. Improved machinery will be purchased and operations will be resumed as soon as possible. The destruction of the plant threw about eighty operatives out of work.

Invitations have been received in Petersburg to the marriage of Miss Anna Randolph, daughter of Mrs. Isaac C. Blanchard, to Dr. Thomas S. Hopkins, the marriage to be solemnized at St. Paul's Church, Winston-Salem, N. C., the 19th instant. The bride-elect has many friends in Virginia.

FIRE SAFEGUARDS.
Along with other improvements recently made in the Academy of Music building, safeguards against danger in case of fire have been provided. The house is supplied with many exits from each gallery, and a capacity audience could be gotten out within a few minutes.

To-morrow night, at the Tabb Street Presbyterian Church, the A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans, and Petersburg Grays, will attend services on mass. This is the regular quarterly divine service of the camp, and the Petersburg Grays will hereafter join with them in all their worship, having been specially urged to do so by the veterans.

HOME FOR THE SICK.
The monthly meeting of the managers of the Home for the Sick was held to-day and the reports showed that the institution is in good condition. During the month about $70 was contributed by the churches of the various denominations; $20 by the Petersburg Lodge of Elks, and $11 by an unknown donor.

The annual banquet of the Benevolent Mechanics' Association will be held Monday night and the committee in charge of the affair will endeavor to make it a notable occasion.

hall under the auspices of the Social Committee, of which Mr. W. L. Ballies is the chairman. There will be musical and literary exercises and a repetition of the conundrum guessing that recently proved such an attractive feature.

The first prize is a trip to the St. Louis Exposition, the second a handsome gold watch and the third a fine suit of clothes. The prizes will be awarded at grand rally to be held in the spring.

BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS.

Ministerial Union to Have Big Discussion To-morrow.

At the meeting of the Ministerial Union to-morrow morning, at 11 o'clock there will be a great discussion of the paper on the Bible in the Public Schools, read last month by the Rev. Thomas Semmes, rector of St. Andrew's.

Dr. Hawthorne will lead the discussion with a speech of ten minutes. Then others will be given five minutes each. The views of the ministers on the subject are very much divided, and the discussion will probably be lively from the outset. Dr. Hawthorne is strongly opposed to the use of the Bible in the schools, holding that it is a violation of the principle of complete separation of church and state.

ARCANUM'S GREAT RALLY

The Programme Practically Complete for Jubilee Occasion January 25th.

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKERS

Some of the Leading Men of the Order to be Here—Fine Music.

The joint rally of the Royal Arcanum members and their friends at the Academy on Monday, January 25th, will be a jubilee occasion. The committee has almost completed their arrangements and the demand for tickets insures that the house will be packed. The committee, of which Mr. W. T. Dabney is chairman, has arranged the best programme ever offered here as a free attraction.

Mr. Dabney, who is one of the most active members of the Order in the State, has been assisted in arranging the programme by a splendid staff of co-laborers, composed of one representative from the seven councils of this city and one from seven other cities.

The programme will consist mostly of musical numbers by the best artists obtainable and it will be a very attractive feature. Several pieces being right from the publishers and several composed for the occasion. The speeches will be by gentlemen, who are capable of handling their subjects in a way that will be interesting and impressive, without being tiresome.

The speeches and their subjects are as follows: Rev. F. T. McFadden, grand regent of the State, "Brotherhood," Supreme Regent A. S. Robinson, of St. Louis, "The Royal Arcanum;" Hon. W. Holt Aggar, of Trenton, N. J., past supreme regent, "The Mission of Our Fraternity;" Mr. Aggar is a humorous speaker and his address at the Academy four years ago is still in the recollection of many who had the pleasure of hearing him. He is one of the leading members of the Trenton bar, a master mason and one of the best presiding officers that has filled the Supreme Regent's chair in the history of the Order.

Mr. Aggar was much impressed with Richmond at his visit here four years ago and at once wired his acceptance of the invitation of Mr. Bloomberg to be present.

SUCCESS EVERY TIME.

It has often been demonstrated that whatever is undertaken by the Royal Arcanum in this city is always a success. The members are active and energetic and are always willing to put their shoulder to the wheel. This is particularly true in arranging for this rally. The meetings have been well attended and every member has performed his duties well and with a spirit and zeal that the Order may be proud of. HIS DEPARTURE A SOURCE OF REGRET

Charles Lincoln Smith Engaged to be in Norfolk This Week.

MANY REQUESTS THAT HE REMAIN

City-By-The-Sea and Richmond Vie With Each Other to Get the Services of the Eminent Specialist and Public Benefactor.

Return engagements in Norfolk will call for the departure for the City by the Sea of Charles Lincoln Smith, whose marvelous relief of eye affections and kindred troubles have endeared him to so many hundreds of Richmond people.

The news that this man, who has given so much joy and happiness to so many families here, will leave the city, will certainly cause profound regret.

During his prolonged visit here before the holidays, he won a host of friends and many patrons, whose unfortunate acquaintances and relatives have not yet recovered from the benefit of his marvelous method and skill.

During the past week he has been fairly overwhelmed with requests from these needy ones that he will prolong his stay and give them the same opportunity that the more fortunate ones have had.

Charles Lincoln Smith's visit to Richmond has been productive of a remarkable era of generosity and hospitality in his behalf. He has done so much practical good here that all of his patients have endeavored to bring to his care a friend or relative suffering as they themselves suffered before consulting him.

While his Norfolk friends are insisting on his return to that city, that he may lend his skill to their beloved ones, the demands in Richmond are so strong and urgent that it is impossible that this great expert will be able to leave the city until the latter part of this week.

One of the greatest compliments ever paid a scientist visiting Richmond is that Charles Lincoln Smith in the fact that while his engagements in Norfolk are pressing and of great remuneration, he has been so constantly requested to finish his good work here that he is delaying his departure every possible hour.

While Charles Lincoln Smith realizes that he cannot possibly give his method to all of the applicants he has received, he does realize that there are many people who should not be left here without his personal attention. For this cause he will delay his Norfolk engagement.
